

FAMILY WITHOUT WATER

Polluted well brings woes

By Mac MacDonald

LEMONT — A state problem is now Lemont's problem. It happened when Lemont purchased the lands including the old Illinois and Michigan canal recently. The problem is water pollution.

Our photographer, Carl Voss, was shooting pictures of one of the water spigots that gives a steady stream of spring water on the north side of Bluff Rd. There he met Eugene Chapman, a resident of National Park Dr., near the Steelco Chemical Corp. plant, who was filling 43 one-gallon plastic water jugs that he hauled in a borrowed truck. He makes the trip every two or three days.

When Chapman was asked why he had to haul so much water, he said that chemical dumping in the vicinity of the nearby steel treatment plant had contaminated his well water and had killed grass on his property as well as some trees nearby.

The water went sour earlier in 1970. He wrote Action Line and Bee Line, but no one seemed interested in his problem. His luck changed after hearing a broadcast about Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott's requesting reports on pollution.

On Dec. 29, a month after Chapman reported his problem to Scott's office, a pollution investigator, James K. Jenks, verified Chapman's complaint.

Chapman said the water smells like rotten eggs, usually the sign of hydrogen sulphide.

Now that Lemont has purchased the lands surrounding the canal, Chapman's problem is Lemont's problem.

Chapman has to use a borrowed truck to haul the water because his station wagon was hit in the rear end last December knocking out part of the transmission. It was his auto accident in a year's time. The first one injured his back and demolished another Ford station wagon. He, his wife, and seven children had to move into his father's

Charge Mokena man in murder

MOKENA — Thomas H. Beebe, 20, Burr Oak Lane, Mokena, is scheduled for arraignment in Kendall County Friday, Jan. 8, on a charge of homicide. He was indicted by a Kendall County grand jury which charged him with the murder of a co-ed at Joliet Junior College last fall. The victim was Sherry Lynn Armbrust, 19, 16404 Dawson Drive, Lockport. The indictment was returned at Yorkville, county seat of Kendall, Dec. 28. Beebe was arrested in Joliet Dec. 29 by detectives from the Illinois State Police and Joliet police.

Beebe was turned over to Kendall County Sheriff Thomas Usry, who lodged him in the county jail at Yorkville. The indictment charges the defendant with having shot and killed Miss Armbrust in House's Grove Forest Preserve, Seward Township. The girl was last reported seen alive Oct. 20 on the parking lot of the junior college campus west of Joliet. Her body was found Nov. 1 in the forest preserve by mushroom hunters. According to investigators the girl was believed to have been shot with a small caliber pistol.

According to investigators, Beebe and Miss Armbrust had been dating. No motive for the killing has been made public. State Police detectives have been aiding Kendall County authorities in the investigation of the crime for some time.

On several occasions, it was brought out, investigators came to Mokena to question Beebe. The youth worked for the village of Mokena as a maintenance man last summer and, while going to school this fall and winter, he also had embarked on a training period with an insurance company at Joliet.

The Kendall State's Attorney, Dallas Ingemumson, will be in charge of the prosecution. Beebe will be arraigned next week before Associate Circuit Judge Robert Sears. He will be furnished with a copy of the indictment and list of witnesses. It is expected that a motion to quash the indictment will put the case over for another week or longer. No one in authority would say when the actual trial would get under way.

Power off, bulbs pop

ARBURY HILLS — A sagging high voltage line sagged just a little too far on Monday night of last week, and sent a jolt of power through the line supplying homes in the southeast section of Arbury Hills causing a bursting of light bulbs and TV tubes.

Victims of the occurrence have been requested by Commonwealth Edison to present their receipted bills of damage for reimbursement.

A spokesman for the power company said engineers were puzzled by the occurrence. According to the spokesman when a high voltage wire touches a lesser line it usually burns through, but the one at Arbury Hills apparently released its load into the service lines causing the unusual damage.

Area man is indicted in bank fraud scheme

Elmer III Jr., 50, of 5027 S. Main St., Downers Grove, will be arraigned Monday, Jan. 11, in the District Court of Cook County on fraud charges.

He was indicted last week in a fraud scheme. He is accused of defrauding 10 banks of more than $1 million over an eight-year period.

The banks are the Bank of Westmont; the Bank of Yorktown, Lombard; The Bremen Bank and Trust Co., Tinley Park; the Downers Grove

THEN THE ROOF FELL IN

A newly-constructed roof collapsed on an addition to Lincoln-Way high school early last Monday morning. The roof was approximately 28,000 square feet in area. Damage was estimated at approximately $25,000. Fifteen 30 foot steel joists and three 60 foot steel joists collapsed. The four inches of snow on the roof was not believed to be the cause of the collapse. The architects for the building addition are Charles and Smith. Munster Steel Co. of Hammond, Ind. provided the steel for the projects. Steel engineers were on the scene the same day to try to determine the cause of the collapse.

Lockport reviews its insurance coverage

LOCKPORT — Consolidating the city's insurance coverage into one package was the main topic of discussion for the Lockport city council at its regular meeting Monday evening.

The city plans to take bids on one major policy which would cover most of the city's insurance needs. Bid forms for the city contract may be obtained from the office of the city clerk beginning Jan. 11. The forms must be returned on or before Monday Feb. 1 in order to be considered.

The council also dealt with several other minor points of business. It approved a six-point order to upgrade the sewage treatment plant. The council also authorized Mayor George Nordstrom to send a letter to Gov. Ogilvie and other state officials urging a joint effort between the

Incumbents plan to run again

NEW LENOX — A supervisor and a highway commissioner will be elected in New Lenox Township this year. The incumbents, Supervisor John Francis and Highway Commissioner Otto Bormet, will be seeking re-election.

Nominations can be made by petition or at party caucuses. The caucuses are set for Feb. 2 but the times and places have not been selected.

The Republicans and the Democrats plan to hold caucuses. Supervisor Francis will be the candidate in the GOP caucus. Bormet, who was elected four years ago on an independent ticket will follow the same route, according to the politicoes.

Police chief Robert Gait was granted permission to attend the Illinois Chiefs of Police convention later in the month.

Nominating petitions may be obtained from Township Clerk Frank Kluge at the New Lenox State Bank.

The township election is set for April 13. Library trustees will also be elected that day. Although the library is a township library it's elections are divorced from those of the township.

Township clerk Frank Kluge said that 125 signatures are needed for a petition.

The annual township meeting is to be held on April 13, the place and time to be announced later.

Tentative budgets for road purposes and for general town purposes will go on display at the New Lenox State Bank on Feb. 28 and public hearings will be held March 30.

Prisoners hear folk program

The grim corridors of Joliet State Prison echoed with lively Mariachi music over the holidays as El Mariachi Potosino, a Mexican folk music group from Chicago, put on a program for the Spanish-speaking prisoners.

The program also included a mass in Spanish conducted by the Rev. Dominic Morrisette, associate pastor at St. Andrew's Parish, Romeoville. Sixty persons from the parish's Latin American Council and 10 Josephine sisters from De Andreis Seminary, Lemont, also participated.

The group was invited to the prison by the Rev. Gervais Brinkman, prison chaplain.

The response from the prisoners was enthusiastic. One 20-year old prisoner said, "This was the most wonderful Christmas in five years. It was good to find that someone cared."

In the old days children walked to school but now it's Dad who walks so he can pay taxes so the children can ride the school buses.

Stuart Paddock on Pulitzer jury

Stuart R. Paddock Jr., president of Paddock Publications, has been named to the Pulitzer Prize journalism jury for 1971.

The appointment was announced last week by William J. McGill of Columbia University.

Paddock and 47 other jurors will screen nominations for Pulitzer awards in 10 journalism categories, based on work published during 1970.

The Pulitzer Prizes are awarded annually the first Monday in May by trustees of Columbia on recommendation of the advisory board for Pulitzer Prizes.

Before the jurors assemble in the Spring to begin judging, they will be assigned to work in one of 10 journalism categories. These cover public service, local spot news reporting, local investigative reporting, national reporting, international reporting, editorial writing, cartoons, spot news and feature photography, and criticism or commentary.

The jurors exercise their independent and collective judgment in each of these categories and submit three to six recommendations for each.

The jurors' reports are for the information and advice of the advisory board, which can select, accept, substitute or reject these reports. The advisory board's recommendations then go to the university trustees for final approval.

Hospital sets art display

JOLIET — The next receiving date for original art work at Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, is Thursday, Jan. 14. Paintings will be accepted in the main lobby between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Paintings must be original art work, in any media, measuring no smaller than 12 by 16 inches nor larger than 24 by 36 inches, unframed. Pictures must be framed, ready to hang. A fee of $1 for adults, and 50 cents for students, will be charged for each entry.

When a painting is sold, the artist is asked to donate 10 per cent of the price. The proceeds from these commissions are used for recreational games and devices for the patients.

Further information may be had by calling the office of Herbert Neef, (815) 729-7585, or the office of Charlene Anderson, (815) 729-7632.

home because the back injury had cost him his job.

There are three residences west of the G.M. & O. spur line which services Steelco. Chapman's residence is nearest a quarry pond that has brown-tinted ice. A neighbor east of Chapman has no water pollution.

Four other residences east of the G.M. & O. spur line so far report no water problems.

This isn't Chapman's first problem with Steelco. He was arrested earlier last year when he tried to negotiate to keep open a company gate that is a short cut to Main St. The charges were dropped.

School will not increase fees

NEW LENOX -- Providence High School, a Catholic co-educational institution at the west edge of New Lenox, which two years ago was fighting for its existence has so well weathered its difficulties that there will be no increase in tuition in the 1971-72 school year, according to school officials.

The Rev. Roger L. Kaffer, principal, in a recent letter to parents said he was happy to announce the tuition for the next school year will remain at $400 a year.

Providence High School was on the list of secondary Catholic schools threatened with closure a couple of years ago because of financial difficulties. Students at Providence and their parents succeeded in getting a stay of the order that would have closed the school and launched an intensive and successful campaign to improve the schools financial structure.

"Thanks to your magnificent efforts," Father Kaffer's letter read in part, "We are meeting, and are confident we can continue to meet our financial obligations."

Father Kaffer also told the parents that five Felician Sisters will be added to the faculty next fall. Four of them have master's degrees and the fifth lacks but a few hours of her M.A. Two priests will be also added to the teaching staff. The faculty next September will have more religious than lay members, Father Kaffer said. Registration at Providence is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. January 9. Coffee and doughnuts will be available for parents during the time of placement examination. The examination will take about three and a half hours.

Lewis sets interim format

LOCKPORT -- "Interim" at Lewis-St. Francis College is a venture in experimentation and innovation.

During the four weeks between the fall and spring semesters, faculty and students will explore a variety of new approaches to learning in courses not regularly listed in the school's catalog. All major areas of study are represented -- humanities, sciences, social sciences -- but that is where the similarity between the regular courses offered and "Interim" ends.

Thirty-six courses will be offered from January 4 through 29. In several of these courses, an inter-disciplinary approach will be used. In "The Phenomenon of Fascism," for example, the course will stress philosophy, literature and the arts. In "Christ as Poetic Hero in Literature," emphasis will be placed on the inter-discipline of theology and literature.

Looking at problems from a new point of view is another feature of the "Interim" program. Students enrolled in "Economics of Poverty" will attempt to gain a personal feeling of what a poor person faces by investigating such concrete topics as "Do the poor pay more for food and durable goods?"

A "Pre-Student Teaching Workshop" will enable students to make regular visits to cooperating schools for conferences with administrators, department chairmen, teachers and students.

Focusing on a problem, analyzing it and proposing a solution will be the approach in "Contemporary Problems in Higher Education." In this course, students will have the opportunity to spend time with college administrators

School sale disapproved

ROMEOLVILLE -- A "no sale" has been rung up by members of the building committee of the District 96 school board. Kenneth Kibler, chairman of the committee, told fellow board members at their meeting on December 28 that a majority of his committee was against disposing of Valley View School, and that plans were being dropped. At the December 14 meeting, Kibler had requested and received permission to investigate the possible sale or leasing of the school.

Eugene Korst, board attorney, said tax warrants from the August 15 referendum were delivered on December 22 to the First National Bank of Lockport. Korst said he filed notice of the levy with the Will County Clerk, and it will be included in the 1970 budget. The Northern Bank Note Company will print the bonds.

James Gove, administrative assistant, attended the Illinois Commerce Commission hearing in the school's suit against Illinois Bell Telephone Company. The hearing, held on December 15, was continued until January 12.

In other business: the Architectural Management Company of Joliet was given permission to put out bids for the air conditioning at Park View School.

William Kobliska, board treasurer, reported receipt of tax money for 1965 from the Santa Fe Railroad for $727.18.

The following personnel appointments were made:

Patsy Robb will serve as curriculum director in the language arts department. Audrey Manley, former assistant principal at North View School, will replace Ray Zierman on the faculty for 64 days, while Zierman is completing his doctorate degree.

Dr. William Rogge, was hired as an educational director by a four to one vote. Board member Erenesto Edsall explained his no vote by saying "I have nothing against Dr. Rogge, but I feel more than one person should have been interviewed."

Edsall, was appointed liaison officer to the committee for recreation. Kenneth Kibler was named alternate. The appointments were made by James Bingle, president of the board.

GM&O seeking fare increases

The Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad is asking the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to raise passenger fares in its commuter territory between Joliet and Chicago, effective Jan. 20.

In a printed announcement distributed to patrons of the railroad's single commuter train operation, passenger traffic manager B.C. Pate said the increase would generate approximately $8,000 additional revenue annually and is needed to help offset an operating loss on the service which reached more than $82,000 in 1969. Pate pointed out the last increase in commuter fares on the GM&O was made Nov. 16, 1964.

The commuter train, No. 16 northbound and No. 17 southbound, operates five days a week. In addition, the GM&O operates three trains in each direction daily between Chicago and St. Louis.

discussing their problems.

"Innovation in American Education" will take students off the campus to study first-hand ungraded classes, storefront schools, and architectural innovations. These concepts will then be analyzed in light of the students' observations.

In an experimental course, "Multi-Media Course Structuring," students will establish guidelines for a history survey course to be tentatively offered during the regular semester next fall. Students will gather, evaluate and edit the material to be used. Their suggestions will be considered in determining the approach and topics of the survey course.

New ways of grading will be explored during "Interim." A philosophical - literary study of existentialism will have a pass/fail option instead of the traditional letter grading. In a psychology course dealing with the theory and process of small group interaction, class members will determine the grading procedure through analyzing their own discussion of grades.

In "Theatre and the Allied Arts," stress will be on the inter-relationship of the arts and the students' experiences in oral reading, acting, writing, viewing and hearing the works studied. Typical of many "Interim" offerings, much of this work will be done on-the scene, not in the classroom. Work in studio theatre, viewing of plays and films, and trips to the Chicago Art Institute and art studios are part of this innovative approach to the study of the theatre.

A total of 219 students and 41 faculty members at Lewis-St. Francis College will be involved in the "Interim" program.

Welcome new voters

Is a divided and complex ruling, the U. S. Supreme Court has upheld the power of Congress to lower the voting age in national elections to 18 years, to reduce residency requirements to 30 days for national elections and to further restrict literacy tests for qualifying voters.

In upholding those provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1970, the court extended the right to vote in national elections to 11 million Americans in the 18-to-21-year age bracket who had not previously enjoyed it.

While we have supported the voting age reduction, the decision is not without drawbacks. Chief among them is the court's directive that permits states to maintain a different age requirement for state and local elections.

The ruling is certain to have an impact on the 1972 elections. Nearly one-fifth of the persons qualified to register in that election will be first-time Presidential voters. They will be the first generation of voters raised entirely in the post-war period of unprecedented affluence.

They represent an age group that has shown serious dissatisfaction with the nation's pace in achieving peace and racial justice. Politically, this age group identified itself as more liberal than older groups. The American Council on Education surveyed college freshman, who fall into this group, and found 36.6 per cent identified themselves as liberal and only 18.1 per cent as conservative.

How much impact that will have on choice of candidates is hard to assess. In states which allow persons under 21 to vote, the turnout for this group in the November congressional election was only one-fourth, compared with 65 per cent for the 45-64 age group. At the same time, however, the new 30-day residency period will permit many college students to vote in their college community, so the turnout of young people may be more encouraging than that recorded in November.

In qualifying 18-year-olds for national elections, the court recognized the just position that this group is held accountable for maturity in most other respects. It set the stage for broader involvement on the part of a generation that has demonstrated real interest in the nation's political and social structure, and we believe the impact will be healthy — for new voters and the nation.

The court struck down the provision of the voting act which would have qualified 18-year-olds to vote in all elections, and this could create excessive paperwork and complications in election machinery.

In Cook County, for example, County Clerk Edward J. Barrett plans to have 18-year-olds use paper ballots listing only the national contests for President, Vice President, senator and representative. Elsewhere, special voting machine equipment is being discussed as a means to mechanize voting for this age group.

The people of Illinois recently defeated a constitutional provision which would have lowered the age statewide to 18 for voting in all elections. In view of the court's ruling, we hope the General Assembly will offer another constitutional amendment to voters to end the dual voting status.

The class system

One of the developments of our democratic society, particularly during the last century, is the classification of people.

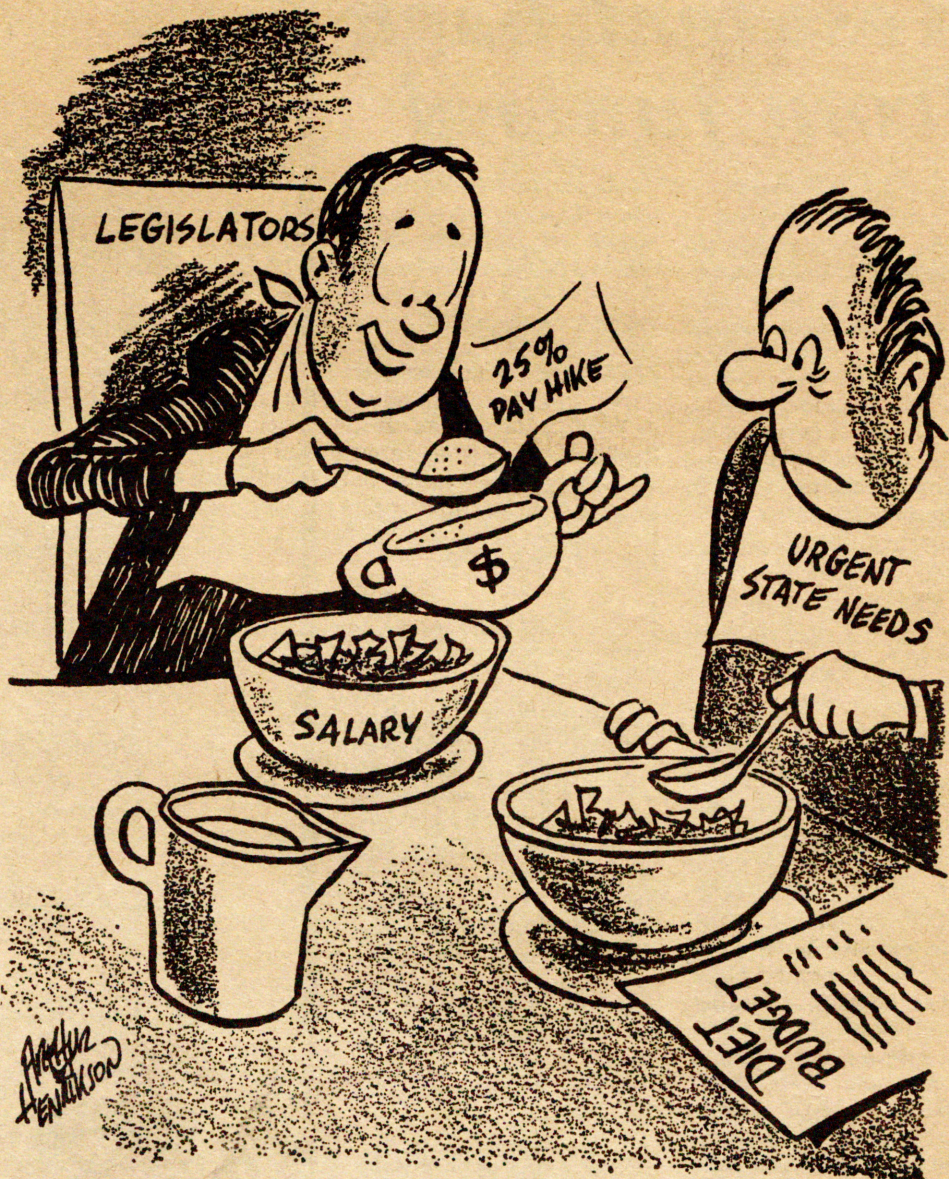

We have before us a publication entitled "U.S. Manpower in the 1970's opportunity and challenge." It is the product of the US Department of Labor, couched, of course, in an optimistic note. It seems to define job opportunities, such as they are, among such classifications as "black," "young adults," "teenagers," and, believe it or not "women."

Things look bright, it seems from the brochure, for all of them, when they conform to the "work force pattern." The booklet assures the public that "the 1970's will be a period of strong economic growth accompanied by extensive work force growth."

Surely this must be heart-warming to the members of the potential "work force," provided they belong to one of the specified classes.

The idea of a stratified "work force" of blacks, young adults, teenagers etc. is rather more repulsive than the reviled class distinctions of the eighteenth century.

Protect your profits

By Herb Hall

Nobody that I have ever heard of has come out flatfooted in favor of the total abolition of the human race. Some have advocated wiping out some parts of it — the parts to which they do not belong.

But the total extinguishing of mankind would be bad for business. The Dow-Jones averages would present an appalling picture. After all, without people you can't have a market.

Sometimes I think this is the main reason there are some altruists left in the places of power.

A few of them have to be given credit for a certain sort of grim humor. I have before me a set of fillers which arrived a little late to add to the holiday cheer. I am indebted to the Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies for these expressions of jocular concern for the problem of avoiding accidents. Here are some samples:

"Partying during the holidays is a lot of fun. But don't spoil it by drinking and driving...If you have been drinking, let someone else drive or make that last one a cup of coffee. Don't make that last one for the road your last one—period."

"Falling snow reflects light. Use only your low beams in snowstorms...If you use your high beams, you may not see where you are going until you reach a dead end."

"Wipe your windshield and back window entirely clear of snow before going out onto the road." Liberty Mutual warned. "If you don't, you may not even see what hit you."

"Frost on the roads can be especially dangerous in early morning hours...Be extra careful on your way to work on cold winter mornings or the coffee break may be held without you."

I got through the holidays before reading these cheerful bits of advice, and without realizing that somebody, if it's only your lovable old insurance company, really cares — cares at least about its investment.

Sometime I would like to see a slogan like "Drive carefully, the life you save means money to us."

Nevertheless, I do appreciate the spirit of commitment to safety, whatever its motives—some of which are probably more or less disinterested.

A cartoon appeared in the New Yorker a few years ago showing a couple of generals studying a plan for the ultimate weapon.

One is protesting, saying, "But then who will buy our memoirs?"

This, back in the Hoover administration, would have reflected what was called "enlightened self-interest."

The thing probably still exists, but in a much more complicated way. A multimillionaire Chicago businessman was quoted recently as being of the opinion that a certain amount of unemployment is good for the economy.

In his opinion, apparently, if an employe is fairly sure he can get another job if he is fired he won't work so hard. This, the man thought, is bad—bad for the economy, for the flag and for him.

Well, I suppose, this is one point of view. I don't think much of it myself. There is more than one way of wiping out the human race.

By Garrick Feldman

Soviet justice, to paraphrase a famous opinion, is to justice what military music is to music.

Ruled by a band of epicene senescents, the Russian government has consistently shown a disregard for human rights, the dignity of man and the freedom to live one's life as one chooses.

Following the revolution, the secret police was established; during Stalin's regime, millions of Russian citizens were either murdered or thrown into labor camps; if Russians happen to dislike their government and desire to leave, they are forbidden to do so.

The ruling circles in Russia have once again exhibited their barbarian instincts by trying, in Leningrad, a group of Jews for allegedly attempting to hijack an airplane. Two of them were convicted to die by the firing squad; this for a "crime" that was not even committed but supposedly only planned. (After this was written the death sentences were commuted. Even pigs, sometimes, bow to public opinion).

The behavior of the pseudo-Marxist government in Russia should really not be surprising. After all, it is only continuing its tradition of fascist rule.

Yet, one would have thought that, after the suffering caused by the Second World War, Auschwitz, Hiroshima and Vietnam, humanity would have learned something. Instead, war crimes are committed daily, millions are being victimized and trials of dissenters occur daily.

One faces the trial of the Leningrad 11 with a sense of hopelessness. How can one protest the sentences of a government that is bound by no morality? Can it be persuaded to let, finally, a little kindness into that wretched country?

You gotta admit it Fred — it says on a ghetto wall — it don't look good.

It astonished me to hear a couple of days ago, on the 10 o'clock news, tucked between soap and deodorant ads, that the Portuguese had defeated the guerrilla insurgents in Mozambique. Frankly, I didn't know there was a war on. It could be that I am the one to be blamed for my ignorance; but I think a case could be made that the media does a poor job, or none at all, when it comes to covering foreign wars. I wish someone would put together a list of wars now being fought which our media is not covering. There should be quite a few on that list.

When the Nigerian civil war began, there was virtually no mention of it in the American news media. When the New York Times, the outstanding source for foreign news, finally decided to cover that war, it sent a correspondent to report from the Nigerian side, and no one to cover the Biafrans.

Do wars qualify only when American boys have to die in them?

Do you know where Mozambique is? Which reminds me: I am willing to wager that at least half the adult population in this country does not know where Vietnam is. Which, I suppose, is neither here nor there.

The other day, I saw someone who must be the most beautiful three-year-old in the world. There is something else that is extraordinary about her: She smokes marijuana. Her slogan must be: Don't trust anyone over five! I believe everyone should do his thing, but isn't three a bit too early? A lady agrees with me. She says kids shouldn't smoke grass until their lungs are developed — at the age of four!

Two Assyrians walk into a bar. One is the father of the other's son. How are the two related?

We are serious drinkers

Roll out the barrels!

There may be a shortage in the gold supply, and some areas may be in need of water, and some people may need food in the U.S.A., but it appears that the beer supply should meet the demands, even with a warm spring and hot summer.

According to a press release from the Industrial Review, August A. Busch Jr., president and board chairman of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., owner of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team, and a director of many other enterprises, found time to drop down to where they draw off the vats in the St. Louis brewery to bung the 20 millionth barrel for 1970. That, friends, is a lot of beer. According to the press release 20 million barrels in a year by a single brewing company is a world's record.

To a thirsty man on a hot day, 20 million barrels of brew might not appear to be much. But statisticians have broken it down to show that one barrel contains almost 14,000 cases, a mere drop. That number probably disappears quickly at Busch Stadium because the Cards draw a good gate. In the last days of the St. Louis Browns or the Philadelphia Nationals, 14,000 cases of beer probably would have lasted through the summer.

Statistics furnished by Mr. Busch show that in addition employing several thousand people in the eight breweries, Uncle Sam gets a healthy bite. Federal taxes on 20 million barrels of beer add up to about $180 million, while the states collect around $45 million.

There are no figures on the number of hiccups in a barrel of beer, let alone 20 million, nor the amount of ice required to chill it and keep it properly cold.

We are not known as a nation of beer drinkers. Americans drink just about anything and everything, including pop, colas and ice water. The English and Germans are credited with putting away more beer than Americans, which means they are indeed very serious brew drinkers, and the amount they tuck away must be colossal.

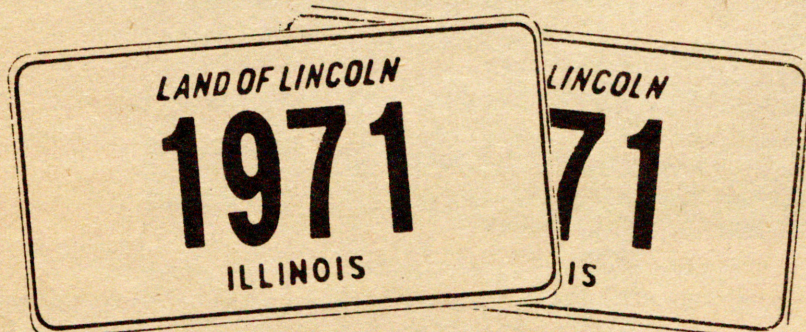

The 20 million barrels turned out by Anheuser-Busch amounts to 10½ barrels per person if our population hits the 300-million mark. Ten and a half barrels for every man, woman and child is a lot of suds, especially when you realize that a lot of the young children have adopted milk as their favorite tipple. And then when you think of all the other breweries in the U.S.A. producing millions more barrels of beer, plus the imported varieties consumed, the total staggers the imagination.

And that's not all that staggers.

These columns usually deal with the "universal thump"—the problems and joys of existence and the interesting or irritating trivia which surrounds us all. If this gives the impression that I cover and write only about ladies' teas and school fun fairs, the impression is a mistaken one. Not having been raised in a fur-lined box, I have encountered a lot of "real life." Some of it has been painful.

Perhaps this is good, because through the difficulties most of us mature and learn that there is still beauty in little everyday things.

However, this newspaper recently received a letter—unsigned, of course—that almost made me forget how much goodness there is in most people. Usually we pay no attention to cowards who express their opinions but won't sign their names. But the hate and filth of language in this note sickened me.

The writer took exception to a picture spread in a recent issue showing youngsters, mostly black, being entertained by Alpha Omicron Alpha fraternity at George Williams College, Downers Grove. They were charming pictures of kids having fun. Many persons were pleased with them.

Few of us are completely free of prejudice in all areas; nearly all of us have our blind spots, and we carefully tend our "convictions," even when we suspect we may be wrong. But can there be many minds so closed to the needs—to the very existence—of other human beings as the writer of this letter?

None of us picks the circumstances into which he is born—not even, I presume, the writer of this letter. I quote the old Scottish preacher, angry at the violent and oft-voiced prejudice of one of his flock. He finally snapped, "How many nights sat ye up deciding ye'd no be born Chinese?"

In the same mail was a note from Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, who reads this paper and who writes to me occasionally. He said that part of the life of a public official is to move from one problem to another, until there are times when he feels the world is filled only with problems and problem-makers. "Then," he said, "something always happens to give you the other side."

"Recently I was asked to present a plaque to Mr. and Mrs. Wordie Murrell of Taylorsville, and if you need a little inspiration, their story can give it to you."

"Mr. and Mrs. Murrell were married 48 years ago. He worked as a railroad clerk, and after a few years of marriage it became clear that they would have no children of their own, so in 1926 they opened their home to a foster child."

"Since then they have had 42 foster children, 30 of whom they raised from small children to adulthood."

"They have put 12 children through college. One is working on a master's degree, one is in a seminary, and one is in her third year at Southern Illinois University, majoring in special education."

"There are four children still home, including 17-year-old twins who began life with the Murrells at the age of four days."

"Through the years the children have had everything the Murrells could give them. Mrs. Murrell worked 17 years at the local hospital to pay for music lessons for the children."

"Mr. Murrell, now retired, has been a leader in the Boy Scouts. Mrs. Murrell is a former area leader of the PTA."

"The climax to the story is significant: Mr. and Mrs. Murrell are black and live in a community which is almost all white—and the majority of young people they have helped are white."

"In a world much too filled with hatred and problems, it is refreshing to know Mr. and Mrs. Murrell."

Which only goes to prove again that the "good guys" and the "bad guys" aren't confined to one race or ethnic group.

"Tolerance" is a word I don't really like. It sounds like "I am a little better than you are, but I'll 'tolerate' your existence anyway!" Understanding may be a better word. Loving everybody we come in contact with is nearly impossible. But when you understand another, it is pretty hard to hate him.

Understanding takes effort. It takes getting outside the "self" with which we are so preoccupied. When we do make that effort, we often find we ourselves benefit just as much as the other guy. Could we work on this a little bit?

Historical sidelights

in Lemont

(Following are excerpts, verbatim, from the December 30, 1920, issue of the Lemont Optimist-News.)

LEMONT — The cracker barrel

Wednesday night, December 29th, burglars were busy in Lemont.

They visited Mitchell's Palm Garden on Stephen St. and Dillman's Cigar Store on Canal St.

Entrances to both places were made through windows in the rear of the buildings.

About $25.00 was taken from the piano at the Palm Garden, and at the cigar Store they also took money from the piano, helped themselves to a lunch and took an amount of cigars and candy.

As we go to press we received the startling news of the sudden death of Mr. Austin Heneghen.

Mr. Heneghen dropped dead about 1:00 o'clock p.m. today, Thursday, December 30, at Brandt and Dillman's Garage. Further details next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lindenau and Mr. and Mrs. John Simmers saw the Ziegfeld Follies Wednesday afternoon in Chicago.

News seems to be scarce this week, we don't know whether there is nothing doing or what.

Two deaths killed by fast trains on the Alton. It seems about time for the City Ordinance of 8 miles an hour be enforced.

The Arbury Hills Cub Scout Pack Number 10 held its December Pack Meeting and Christmas party at the school.

Mark Marzane received his Bear Badge and one Gold Arrow Point and Danny Rankin received two Silver Arrow Points.

It was decided that there would be a fund raising promotion by the Cub Scouts on Saturday, Jan. 9. The boys will sell chrome-plated coat hangers at the rate of $1.00 for four hangers.

Those who bought them last year can attest to the fact that they are well worth the price. Sales will help out the depleted pack treasury.

The January Pack meeting will be held at the school on the regular schedule, the last Friday in January. The Rocket Derby will be held at this meeting.

The butterfly replaced the reptile as the No. 1 motif. Hemlines fell . . . drastically. Longuette was the word most often spoken. Pants revolutionized women's wearing apparel. It all happened in fashion 1970.

The year was also marked by naturalness. Less make-up, particularly eye make-up, was worn, and more than just the hippies cast off their bras and girdles.

Long scarves got shorter; belts increased in width. Emphasis no longer focused primarily on the legs.

Pant stores opened up all over. Trousers became the easy out for women who were confused as to what to do about the new lengths. Pant suits for females began appearing in many business offices in the general area. Even Lancer's Steak House in Palatine let down on its official ruling to allow women in pants to cross its threshold.

Women began sharing their clothes with the men . . . and vice versa. This created a huge new market for unisexual boutiques.

In '70, men no longer took a back seat to their feminine counterparts in style or color. Shirts were manufactured in bold colors, and even wild prints and stripes became acceptable for male business attire. Lapels widened and so did ties.

Men were ushered into their own wig salons where false moustaches and side-

Tie-dyed T-shirts, beaded dog collars and anything fringed belonged to the young.

Crocheting and knitting hit new heights for home-made vests and ponchos. More and more women also reaped the benefits of home sewing.

Most important, women stuck to their guns . . . refused to be intimidated by current vogues in fashion. Or more accurately, the midi didn't take over the world.

Females exerted a new independence in fashion and convinced themselves they would not be left out, if they didn't follow every trend in fashion.

Many skirted the issue completely by joining the pants movement.

burns too were available. "Mani-hose" for men was introduced as well as shoulder bags and colored underwear.

It was the year of knits, jerseys and soft velours, spelling out that choice of fabric was as important as style. The whole look was labeled sensuous.

Boots became the No. 1 fashion accessory. Vinyl worn throughout the spring and summer was replaced in the fall by leather and suede. The laced-up-the-front old-fashioned boot is the current fad in style.

In addition the year was marked by a fervid search for individuality. Anything homemade gained applause, even ties for men.

"Stop that rush!" Lemont's coach Ronald Evans seems to be saying as he sends an eager warrior in against Eisenhower in the eighth grade championship contest. Eisenhower won, 68-28.

They start early here

Basketballers start young in this area, and it's a family affair. Mom, Pop and even the tiny tykes get as excited as the coach and the players. The youth of the players, 12-to-14 year olds, stimulate a special involvement. If all the anguish, excitement and energy at these games could be bottled, it might rival nuclear power. These pictures were taken last week at the Eisenhower Holiday Tournament in Darien. The players are seventh and eighth graders from Eisenhower, Westmont, Lemont, Gower and Puffer schools. Eisenhower defeated Lemont 68 to 28 for the eighth grade title, while Westmont beat out Lemont's seventh graders 60-31. Runners-up were Westmont over Gower, 58-43, for the eighth grade consolation prize, and Eisenhower over Puffer school, 42-13, for the seventh grade consolation prize. Fortunes change fast in this league, however; last year's goat may be this year's champ. So, there's always next year. The kids can accept this, of course. But can the parents?

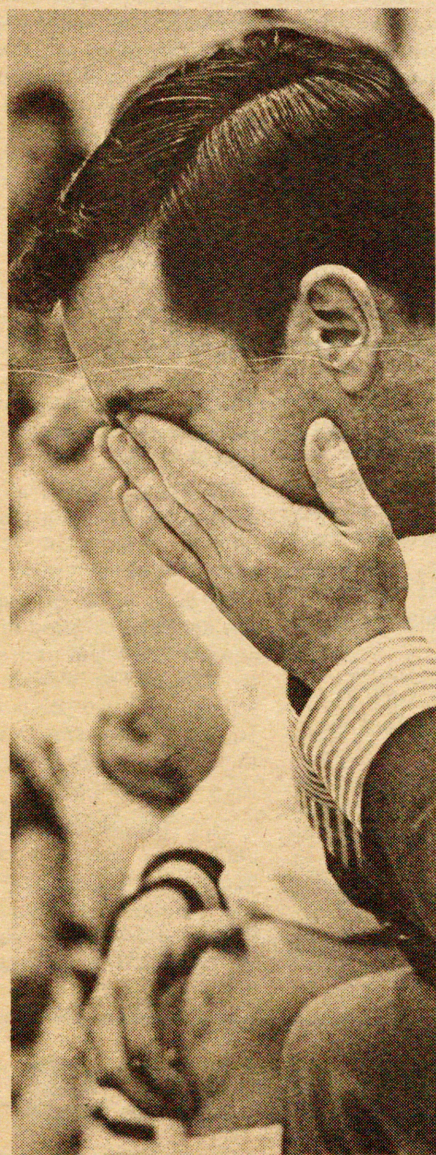

Mom takes it worse than the players sometimes.

Westmont fans find victory easy to take.

Even with youngsters, a coach can't help getting involved, Eisenhower's Chuck Hoefel finds. His eighth graders beat Lemont.

Lemont's tiny Carol Sue Evans, the coach's daughter, takes her cue from the older girls. She's too young to let defeat bother her.

Injuns drop 2 in holiday play

By Jim Ruppert

The Lemont High School Injuns suffered two losses in two days in the West Chicago Christmas Tournament. The first loss was suffered at the hands of the host team, the West Chicago Wildcats, 71-59. The Injuns had a difficult time of getting going and fell behind 23-10 at the end of the first quarter.

The main reason for the Injuns' inability to score was intimidation caused by 6'9" Wildcat Center Orville Jordan. The Injuns made bad shots in an effort to shoot over the hands of Jordan. As a result, they scored only 14 percent of their shots in the first stanza.

The Injuns fought back in the second quarter and cut the deficit to eight points; 38-29. Lemont continued to chop away at West Chicago lead cutting it to seven points in the third stanza, 52-45.

The Wildcats retaliated in the fourth quarter. Both coaches got to see the ability of every player through substitution.

Setting the pace for West Chicago were its two guards, Jeff Baker and John Peterson who poured in 18 points apiece. Orville Jordan added 17 points. Leading the way for Lemont was sophomore Frank Basco and Steve Pociask, who scored 17 and 16 points respectively.

The Injuns moved to the consolation bracket of the tourney on the following day against their local rival, Providence High, New Lenox.

The game was a close one all the way, with the Providence Celtics in the lead but not by many points.

The score after the first stanza was 18-15 in the Celtics' favor. The Injuns cut the deficit to two points at half-time, 31-29, mainly through work of Frank Basco and Dick Pierce. In the third quarter, Lemont again cut the deficit by one point, trailing only 47-46.

In the fourth quarter the Celtics jumped away early and went ahead 10 points for a short time. Injun Coach John Jones applied a full-court press. With heavy pressure applied by Injun Mark Forzley and Al Brown, plus dead-eye shooting by Dick Pierce, the margin was cut to three points. Steve Pociask scored another basket in the last minute, bringing the score to 71-69.

When Celtic guard Jay Martin made three free throws on Lemont fouls, the outcome was 73 to 69 in favor of the Celtics.

When the Celtics came down court and missed a shot, Lemont brought down the rebound and set up an offense. Eventually, Injun Al Brown connected on an accurate pass to Steve Pociask bringing the Injuns to within one point, 70-69 with less than a minute remaining in the game.

After a foul by Al Brown, Celtic Guard Jay Martin made one of two free throws. Lemont then trailed by two points.

Lemont's Pierce fouled the Celtics' Martin at the last second of play. The 5'6" set-up man, then connected on two free throws to ice the game.

Providence scoring was led by Mike Babjack, who scored 17 points. All-state candidate Mike Carruthers had 16 points, and Jay Martin and Steve Gant scored 14 apiece.

High scorer for Lemont was Dick Pierce, who scored 20 points, followed by Steve Pociask and Frank Basco, with 15 each.

Despite five successive losses, Lemont coach John Jones is optimistic for the coming Northeast Conference. Senior guard Rich Hoffman and senior center Jesse Gonzales are due to return Jan. 8, when the Injuns meet the Lisle Lions on Lemont's court.

Porters edged out in Pontiac tourney

The Waukegan Bulldogs beat the Lockport Porters, 57-56, last Wednesday in a consolation championship game played at the Pontiac Holiday Tournament.

A come-from-behind effort triggered by the Bulldog's 6-foot, 10-inch center, Bill Rucks, turned the tide against the Porters in the final two minutes of the game.

In the first stanza, the Porters, led by Isiah Harper, Al Green and Tom Saunders, pushed to a 17-13 lead.

Rucks got three baskets in a row during the second quarter as he put on the pressure, using his size to great advantage. Rucks, teaming with Greg Hasty, got 15 points in the quarter. The effort was counterbalanced, however, by the Porters'

Harper and Glynn who paced their team to a halftime lead of 38-28.

The Porters tried a zone defense on Rucks in the latter half of the game. Rucks still teamed up with Paul Waidzunas in the third quarter, and each dropped in two straight to bright the score to 42-42. The Porters retaliated with two points from Harper. Bulldog Don Demkiw then scored a free throw and the score was 44-43.

The Porters stayed ahead until Rucks' and Bitterman's baskets tipped the score in the Bulldogs' favor, 57-54. Porter Ellis Files scored the final basket in the game with six seconds left.

Eagle cagers set sights on return to winning form

by Dave Lumley

The Sandburg Eagles, trying to get on the winning track, lost two of three games in the East Aurora tournament during the holidays and saw their record fall to 2-8.

In the opening game East Aurora crushed the Eagles 102-58. "Aurora's fine shooting and rebounding were just too much for us and they were really fired up, playing on their home court in front of such a big crowd," said Coach John Wilson.

Sandburg bounced back the next day against Downers Grove North and grabbed a 78-64 victory.

Junior Art Crummie came off the bench in the second quarter to spark the Eagles. Crummie popped in 16 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. Rick Bain also had 10 rebounds and 15 points. Bill Brimm paced the scoring with 22 points. Wilson said "We looked better against Downers Grove and Crummie did a good job when we put him in, and so did Rich Bain. The boys moved the ball around good also."

Sandburg met Wheeling High for the consolation championship and just fell short of a major upset, losing 72-67 in the closing seconds. Wheeling, led by their 6' 11" center Gary Wood, had previously beaten East Aurora 85-82, the same team that had trounced the Eagles earlier.

Sandburg jumped off to an early lead and held a one-point advantage at the end of the first quarter. The lead then swayed back and forth throughout the game before Wheeling's fast break produced six quick points and three Eagle starters fouled out of the game.

Rick Bain, who Coach Wilson felt played brilliantly in the tourney and especially against Wheeling's Gary Wood, fouled out late in the third quarter with 21 points and many clutch rebounds and steals. Bain held Wood to only 18 points, 12 under his average.

Bill Grimm tossed in 21 points and tallied 49 for the tournament to lead the Eagles in scoring. Greg Grimm again displayed fine passing, assisting on many Sandburg baskets and led Eagle rebounders with 21 for the tournament.

Art Crummie, starting his first varsity game, chipped in with 13 points and five rebounds.

Wilson felt Sandburg played its best game of the season against Wheeling and said if not for fouls and mental mistakes the Eagles could have had a victory.

Sandburg's junior varsity lost its only game during the Christmas break to Rich

East 60-48. The Eagles trailed 28-25 at the half but Rich ran up eight quick points in the fourth quarter to clinch the victory.

Dave Lumley led the scoring with 16 points along with Jim Koranda who added 13 points. The junior varsity record is now 2-2.

Carl Sandburg's next game is at home against Evergreen Park at 8 p.m., Jan. 8.

Instructor is Kelly Restaino.

The Christmas tree dilemma

What to do with the old Christmas trees?

Putting trees up and getting them decorated are tasks one usually finds help for, but getting the lights and decorations taken off and stored away and the tree removed is another story. And this year there is still another chapter added. What to do with the tree after removal from the house.

Open burning is banned under the Environmental Protection Act adopted by the Illinois legislature last summer, and burning was the easiest and quickest way to get rid of old Christmas trees.

In some areas service-minded organizations made a project of picking up the trees around Twelfth-night and hauling them to an open spot where they were burned under supervision.

Piano lessons for grades 1-8

LOCKPORT -- The Lockport Township Park District is still taking registrations for the second ten weeks in Piano and Organ Instruction. Children in grades one through eight are eligible for the program.

Lessons will be at the Lockport Youth Center, 9th and Washington St. beginning Jan. 9. Piano lessons will be from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. and organ from 4:15 to 5:15 p.m.

Registrations will be on a first-come, first-serve basis, with limitations of 12 pupils per class. Fee for the program is $8. Those interested in registering may do so by going to the Lockport Township Park District Office in Dellwood Park, or by sending their name, address, phone number, school and class entering with a check or money order to: Lockport Township Park District, Dellwood Park, Lockport, Illinois, 60441.

Only residents of Lockport Township are eligible.

At Mokena, it was the Lions Club that took care of this chore. On a designated day, members manned trucks, furnished for the most part by the membership but all free, and loaded them with the discarded trees left at curbside by householders. The trees were hauled to Community Park and burned under the supervision of the Mokena volunteer fire department.

The burning is out this year, but the Mokena Lions will stage the annual tree pick-up Jan. 10. The trees will be hauled to the Loren Sass farm Homer Township.

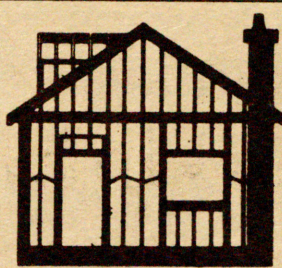

For several years, Sass has aided in the pick-up of Christmas trees at Mokena. He then hauled them out to neighbors who bunch them in fields and along fence rows to provide cover for wildlife.

With the anti-pollution program practically every place, the idea of using the discarded trees as wildlife cover has been catching on.

In some urban areas trees are fed into machines that shred them. The bits are buried in landfills. Frankfort and New Lenox householders will have their old trees picked up by the garbage haulers. All a householder has to do is cut the tree (and the branches) into four-foot lengths, bundle them together and put them alongside his garbage cans.

It may be that next year the garbage haulers will take over the task at Mokena, it was said. Each year has shown a smaller number of natural trees in use. Eventually, it was believed, the bulk of Christmas greens to be used in urban and suburban areas will be the artificial variety. Those aren't thrown away but stored away until Christmas comes round again.

While we are busy changing dates for holidays, why not make April Fool's Day come on April 15 instead of the first day of the month?

A Thought To Remember BY BOB HIRSCH

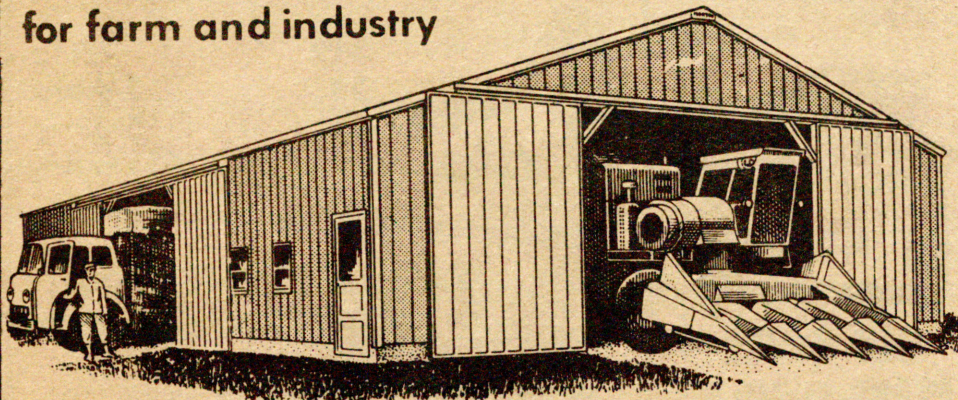

WITNESS! Let's think about the word, not necessarily in a religious sense, but from an earthly view of human reaction. All of us witness things every day. We see varying circumstances, situations and attitudes all around us, both good and bad.

As we witness these things in other people, wouldn't it be a good idea for us to ponder what other people see or witness in us? Each of us individually sets a standard of behavior, thought and expression linked to ourselves. In doing this, we naturally provide a scene or knowledge for others to witness. The things we do and the things we say cause people to talk about us favorably or gossip about us unfavorably.

We create our own image, good or bad. We control the destinies of our image in the minds and thoughts of others. When we can be rightfully proud of what others witness in us, we gain an inner gladness that automatically portrays a better, more likeable image...

Traffic deaths down

Highway fatalities in Will County in 1970 show a substantial decrease from 1969. There were 56 traffic deaths in the past year as compared to 75 in the preceding 12 months. The number injured in auto accidents in 1970 totaled 1,038.

Coroner Willard G. Blood, who compiled the figures, attributes the decline to better weather conditions last fall compared to the previous year and fewer crashes that took a multiple toll. He also believes that people may be becoming more safety minded.

The lowest number of traffic deaths in the past decade was 40 in 1959 and the highest number was 81 in 1968.

Broken down the traffic fatalities for 1970 show 13 died in accidents involving only one car and 15 in two-car collisions; seven deaths resulted from collisions between cars and trucks; four from collisions between cars and trains; two involving trucks and trains.

Nine pedestrians were killed by cars and two by trucks. One died in an accident involving a motorcycle and two in crashes involving motorcycles and cars. In all, there were 330 coroner's cases of which 159 required inquests.

Two persons died in farm accidents; two in industrial accidents; 10 in accidental drownings; two from asphyxiation; 10 from burns and smoke inhalation; 17 died as a result of falls; three from accidental gunshot wounds; two from accidental inhalation of carbon monoxide; one from accidental overdose of drugs; one from exposure, and one from accidental electrocution.

The record for 1970 also shows 13 homicides and 27 suicides. Seven of the homicides resulted from gunshot wounds; three from stab wounds, and three from beatings.

Sewer project gets $764,683

LOCKPORT--Lockport is one of 19 communities to share in federal and state funds to build or improve sewage treatment plants. Cost of the Lockport program is listed at $764,683.

The other sewage treatment projects and the cost of each are:

Belvidere, $1,320,000; Chillicothe, $480,616; Collinsville, $4,316,000; Elgin Sanitary District, $1,137,160; Erie, $161,260; Eureka, $180,600; Geneseo, $684,550; Glen Ellyn, $3,124,100; Hinsdale Sanitary District, $5,963,800; Lincolnshire, $404,000; Marseilles, $406,168; McHenry, $918,315; Riverton $309,100; St. Joseph Sanitary District, $279,600; Versailles, $62,239; Waverly, $217,900; Winchester, $195,376 and Woodstock, $1,565,200.

The construction of these projects will total $22.5 million. In December the federal government released over $12-million in grants to Illinois by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency. The grants were larger, it was explained, because of the passage Nov. 3 of Gov. Ogilvie's $750-million anti-pollution bond issue.

LEGAL NOTICE

Cook County Preamble

COOK COUNTY DELINQUENT TAX LIST OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER OF COOK COUNTY AND EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS

Advertisement and Notice of Collector of Cook County of Application for Judgment against Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the year 1969 and for Order of Sales Thereof, and Notice of Sale Thereof, and application for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest, as provided by law.

Jan. 7, 1971

NOTICE IS hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County will apply to the County Division of Circuit Court of Cook County on the 18th day of January, A.D., 1971 for judgment against lands and lots hereinafter described as being delinquent upon which taxes remain due and unpaid, or personal property taxes charged thereon, as noted in this advertisement, remain due and unpaid, for said taxes, interest and costs and for an order to sell said lands and lots for the satisfaction thereof according to law (excepting from said judgment and order of sale the cases which are included in this advertisement for sale only under former unexecuted judgments and orders for sale as may be noted in this advertisement.)

Notice is also given that an application will be made for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest.

Notice is further herein and hereby given that on the second Monday next succeeding the 18th day of Jan., A.D., 1971 to-wit, the 1st day of Feb., A.D., 1971, at the hour of 8 o'clock A.M. all said lands and lots hereinafter described for sale of which an order shall be made, or has been made and not executed as noted, will be exposed to public sale at the County Building of Cook County where the seat of County government is located in said County for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes remain due and unpaid, the name of the owners, where known, the total amount due thereon (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised) and the year or years for which the same is due.

(The total amount due in this application on each tract or parcel of land or lots is the sum of the amounts appearing due in this advertisement.)

EXPLANATORY NOTE — In this list in all places where no other notation is made the figures in the column headed "$" (meaning dollars) and the "cts" (meaning cents) represent the taxes due and unpaid for the year A.D. 1969. Where the letter "F" is placed to the left of the figures in this column it is intended for an abbreviation of the word "forfeiture," and denotes that the amounts due and unpaid on said lands and lots have been previously forfeited to the State. When back taxes are extended, they are indicated by the letters "B.T."

Payment of taxes made after printer's copies are sent to publishers for listing, and appearing as delinquent in this advertisement, will be satisfied in judgment records before sale.

In lieu of legal description used heretofore each parcel of land or lot is designated by a permanent real estate index number.

In the permanent real estate index number system, appearing in the column headed "A," the subarea by the number in the column headed "SA," the block by the number appearing in the column headed "Blk," and the particular parcel by the number in the column headed "Pcl."

Comparison of the permanent real estate index number with the legal description of any parcel may be made by referring to the cross indices maintained in County offices.

Published by order of County Collector of Cook County, Illinois.

Job center is opened

Grace Center, a non-profit vocational rehabilitation project, opened in Tinley Park Tuesday, Jan. 4. The center, at 159th St. and Oak Park Ave., is directed by the Rev. Carroll W. Peterson, Orland Park.

"Grace Center brings to the area a unique concept of dealing with the broad scope of rehabilitation to assist each individual in the development and implementation of a program specifically designed to meet his specific needs," The Rev. Mr. Peterson said.

Mr. Peterson originally attempted to establish the center in Mokena, but decided against it when residents protested to the Village Board that they did not want "undesirables" in the area.

Goal of the center is to provide vocational rehabilitation for handicapped persons or those without job skills who are unable to find employment without special training.

Specific objectives of the program are:

"To help people help themselves, especially with employment.

"To provide sheltered workshop employment for individuals with great need for immediate income.

"To provide a network of contacts with employers which will facilitate employment.

"To provide individual, family and group therapy.

"To provide special activities to meet the needs of young people.

"To coordinate with local, private, state and federal agencies for assisting individuals, families, community groups and organizations to reach these objectives."

Anyone seeking further information about the center may call 532-1050 or write Grace Center, 6800 W. 159th St., Tinley Park 60477.

Teachers plan strike action

LOCKPORT — Lockport teachers met over the holidays to put into effect an action program which could culminate in a teacher strike early in 1971.

"The public must be made aware of the facts concerning our dispute with the school board," said Jim Szczepaniak, chairman of the AFT Local 1291 Negotiating Committee.

"Mr. Brill, president of the school board, is misleading the public by releasing information about our starting salary. The beginning salary is $7200, not $7800 as was stated. This is not in line with other schools as evidenced by a base salary of $8000 in the Joliet high schools," Szczepaniak claimed.

"The teachers have found, and the board has agreed, that there are budget monies available which could be used for improving teacher salaries. This concern of salary, plus our concern over the possible educational upheaval which could result from Superintendent Lloyd Harrell's so far ill-defined scheme for restructuring the Lockport high school system, has undercut the confidence of the teachers in the educational leadership of the district."

Court places 2 on probation

Two men arrested and charged with theft after Cook County Sheriff's Police raided a garage in Lockport Oct. 28, have been placed on four years probation by 6th district Magistrate Irving Kipnis.

Frederick Richard, 34, 8249 W. 45th St., Lyons, and Thomas Lacey, 23, 17204 S. 71st Ave., Tinley Park, appeared before Magistrate Kipnis in Midlothian.

The men were arrested after police confiscated auto parts worth several thousand dollars from the Ezac Motors Garage at 2001 Collins St., Lockport.

Police alleged the operation was part of a steal-to-order auto parts ring which existed nationwide.

The raid took place after Cook County Police followed a car from Chicago to Lockport. The car was identified as one stolen earlier in the day from an Illinois Central Railroad parking lot in Hazel Crest.

LT painting classes

LOCKPORT--The Lockport Township Park District is taking registrations for the adult water color instruction classes. Eight weeks of instruction will be provided at the Richland Center, Lynwood and Sweetbriar Sts.,

Crest Hill, Monday evenings, beginning Jan. 11.

Registrations are being accepted at the Lockport Township Park District office, Dellwood Park.

The instructor will be Mrs. John Blazekovich.

Children's reading group set

LOCKPORT — The Children's Department of the Lockport Township Library will begin its Golden Reading Club on Jan. 18 and continue it till March 27. Anyone who has a library card is welcome to join.

The first 50 children to read 50 books will become honorary members of the Book Worm Club, and will receive a pin.

Registration for the club may be made any time before Jan. 18. Books may be reported to Helen Meurer, Jimmy Rodeghero and Nancy Thomas of the Children's Department from Jan. 18 until March 27.

Story Hour will be at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 9, at the library, and at 1 p.m. at the Crest Hill Branch.
